

American Astronomical Society

Special Sessions for Teachers

Thursday, June 3rd, 2004
At the Colorado Convention Center in Denver

Join us for an exciting afternoon and evening of space science content and activities for the classroom!

For further information on the sessions, visit both web sites given below.

Special 1-Day AAS Registration fee for K-12 and community college teachers, $25

The Colorado Convention Center is located at 700 14th Street in Denver

"Cool Astronomy"

Astrobiology in the Universe and in the Classroom

WHEN: 2:00 – 3:30 pm

WHERE: Room 710/12

www.aas.org/registration/aas204/coolastronomy.html

NASA Missions: Origins

New Results from Spitzer,
Infrared Classroom Activities,
Mars Rovers, Kepler Mission,
Venus Transit of the Sun 2004

WHEN: 3:45 - 5:45 pm

WHERE: Room 710/12

sofia.arc.nasa.gov/Edu/news/events.html

Astrobiology Presentation

"When We Were Young:
Early Life on Venus, Earth and Mars"

by Dr. David Grinspoon, SWRI

Free & Open to the Public

WHEN: 7:30 - 9:00 pm

WHERE: Room 603/5/7

For further information contact Dr. Dana E. Backman, NASA - Ames Research Center, Moffett Field, CA
(650) 604-2128, dbackman@mail.arc.nasa.gov

Sponsors:

Bell Aerospace
& Technologies Corp.

Kepler
A Search for Terrestrial Planets

